Introduction

This digital portfolio has been created to demonstrate my work readiness skills and learning outcomes through various components such as business communication, interview skills, mock interview, professional networking, and workplace etiquette. Each section contains evidence of learning and reflection using the STAR (Situation, Task, Action, Result) technique.

Business Communication

Evidence

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `myclassroom.cput.ac.za/ultra/courses/_162232_1/outline/scom/overview/_3337528_1/column/_1060500_1/attempt/_10861375_1?courseid=_162232_1`. The page title is 'PROJECT PRESENTATION 3 Business Communication'. The student's name is 'SIBAHLE JOSLINE ANITA LOTTERING'. The assessment is labeled 'Final Mark Formative' and was submitted on '07/03/2025, 15:16 (UTC+2)'. The score is '100 / 100'. Below this, a summary table shows 'Time spent: 03:34:32', 'Amount attempted: 100%', and 'Status: Complete'. A detailed table follows with columns for 'SCO Title', 'Status', 'Score', 'Student's Response', 'Result', and 'Time'.

This evidence reflects my successful completion of Project Presentation 3: Business Communication, submitted on 7 March 2025. I spent a total of 03:34:32 on the assessment, completed 100% of the questions, and achieved a final mark of 100%.

The assessment covered key areas of professional communication, including:

- The primary purpose of business communication,
- Non-verbal communication,
- When to use formal language,

- Email etiquette, and
- Virtual meeting etiquette.

Although I initially got some answers wrong, I reviewed the content carefully and reattempted the questions, ensuring I fully understood the correct concepts. The final result shows that I mastered all the tested communication principles.

Reflection (STAR Technique)

Situation: I was required to complete an online assessment as part of Project Presentation 3 to demonstrate my understanding of business communication principles.

Task: My goal was to apply what I've learned about effective communication and professional etiquette to successfully complete the assessment.

Action: I went through each question carefully, identified the ones I got wrong, and corrected my mistakes by reattempting and reinforcing my understanding of the material.

Result: I achieved a final mark of 100%. More importantly, I gained a deeper understanding of how to use professional language, tone, and non-verbal cues effectively. This experience boosted my confidence in my ability to communicate professionally in different workplace settings, including meetings, presentations, and written correspondence.

The interview skills assessment focused on developing effective communication and preparation strategies for job interviews. It emphasized understanding the purpose of an interview, using the CAR (Context, Action, Result) method to structure responses, and researching the company to provide tailored answers. Key areas included practicing answers to common questions like “Tell me about yourself” and “What is your greatest weakness,” as well as engaging in mock interviews to build confidence. Reflection using the STAR technique helped identify strengths and areas for improvement, ensuring a professional and well-prepared approach to real interview situations.

Reflection (STAR Technique)

Situation: As part of my Project Presentation 3, I completed an Interview Skills assessment aimed at developing my ability to prepare for and perform well in professional interviews. The assessment covered key areas such as interview purpose, communication strategies, and common interview questions.

Task: My objective was to demonstrate an understanding of effective interview techniques, including how to structure responses using the CAR method, how to research a company beforehand, and how to answer typical interview questions confidently and professionally.

Action: I carefully went through each question in the assessment. I initially answered one question incorrectly but reviewed the content, understood the concept better, and reattempted the question to ensure accuracy. I applied what I've learned about interview strategies, especially how to structure clear and professional responses.

Result: I achieved a final mark of 100%, showing that I fully understood the content. Through this assessment, I strengthened my interview preparation skills, learned how to answer questions more strategically, and gained confidence in presenting myself professionally during interviews. These skills will support me in real-life job interviews and professional opportunities.

Mock Interview

Evidence

The evidence for the Mock Interview represents a comprehensive demonstration of your interview preparedness and professional communication skills in a controlled, simulated setting. It includes how I researched the company, anticipated common interview questions, and structured your responses using the CAR (Context, Action, Result) or STAR (Situation, Task, Action, Result) techniques. The evidence also shows my ability to articulate experiences, skills, and accomplishments clearly, manage nervousness, and maintain professional body language and tone. Additionally, it reflects my capacity to receive feedback, critically assess my performance, and implement improvements, highlighting growth in confidence, self-presentation, and readiness for real-world job interviews.

Reflection (STAR Technique)

Situation: I participated in a mock interview as part of my career development assessment, designed to evaluate my readiness for real job interviews and improve my communication skills.

Task: I was expected to prepare for and respond to common interview questions, demonstrate professional behavior, and effectively communicate my experiences and skills.

Action: I researched the company and typical interview questions, structured my answers using the CAR/STAR method, practiced speaking clearly and confidently, and maintained professional body language throughout the interview. After the session, I reflected on feedback from the interviewer to identify strengths and areas for improvement.

Result: The mock interview helped me gain confidence in answering questions, improved my ability to structure responses clearly, and enhanced my understanding of professional interview etiquette. I also learned the importance of preparation, self-reflection, and adaptability in handling unexpected questions, which strengthened my overall employability skills.

Professional Networking

Evidence

The screenshot displays a web interface for a course titled "Professional Networking". It shows a "Final Mark" of 100/100, submitted on 21/03/2025. Below this, a summary table indicates the assessment was "Complete" with a "Time spent" of 01:49:05 and an "Amount attempted" of 100%. A detailed table follows, listing six items related to professional networking, all of which were completed with a score of 100%.

SCO Title	Status	Score	Student's Response	Result	Time
Professional Networking	Complete	100%	N/A	N/A	01:49:05

PROFESSIONAL_NETWORK_What_is_the_first_step_in_creating_a_professional_network_0	Complete	0%	i	Correct	00:00:04

The evidence represents my understanding and application of professional networking concepts. It demonstrates that I have completed activities and assessments related to networking, including knowing the primary purpose of professional networking, understanding what a networking event is, following the “golden rule” of networking, recognizing common mistakes to avoid, and identifying the first steps in creating a professional network. This evidence highlights my ability to engage in networking effectively, build professional relationships, and apply best practices to support my career growth.

Reflection (STAR Technique)

Situation: I participated in a professional networking activity as part of my career development assessment, designed to help me understand how to build and maintain professional relationships.

Task: I was expected to learn the principles of effective networking, identify common mistakes to avoid, and practice applying networking strategies in real or simulated scenarios.

Action: I completed networking exercises, studied the purpose and etiquette of networking events, followed the “golden rule” of networking, and reflected on how to initiate and maintain connections. I also practiced identifying potential networking opportunities and how to approach professionals confidently.

Result: The activity helped me improve my understanding of professional networking, increased my confidence in engaging with others, and enhanced my ability to create and sustain meaningful professional connections. I developed skills in communication, relationship-building, and strategic career planning.

Workplace Etiquette

The evidence represents my understanding and application of workplace etiquette. It shows that I have completed activities assessing my knowledge of professional behaviour, including how to respond to rude or offensive emails, the proper arrival time for meetings, handling confidential information, appropriate use of personal cell phones at work, and procedures for leaving work early for personal reasons. This evidence highlights my ability to recognize and apply correct workplace practices, demonstrating professionalism, responsibility, and effective communication in a work environment.

Reflection (STAR Technique)

Situation: I participated in a workplace etiquette assessment as part of my professional development, designed to evaluate my understanding of proper behaviour and communication in a work environment.

Task: I was expected to demonstrate knowledge of workplace protocols, including responding appropriately to emails with rude or offensive tones, arriving on time for meetings, handling confidential information correctly, using personal devices responsibly, and managing personal absences.

Action: I completed a series of exercises and scenarios that tested my responses to different workplace situations. I reflected on correct practices, reviewed guidelines for professional behaviour, and applied these principles to answer the questions accurately.

Result: The assessment helped me improve my awareness of professional standards, strengthened my decision-making in workplace situations, and enhanced my ability to communicate respectfully and act responsibly. I developed skills in professionalism, time management, confidentiality, and effective workplace communication.

Conclusion

In conclusion, this portfolio reflects my growth and readiness for the workplace, highlighting both my practical experiences and reflective learning. Through completing assessments, mock interviews, and professional networking activities, I have strengthened essential skills such as effective communication, teamwork, adaptability, problem-solving, and professional etiquette. This compilation demonstrates not only my preparedness to contribute meaningfully in a professional IT environment but also my commitment to continuous learning and personal development, ensuring I can adapt to challenges and opportunities in the workplace.
